

Metallic Epoxy Product Information

One of the fastest growing trends in flooring right now. They are everywhere on the Net!

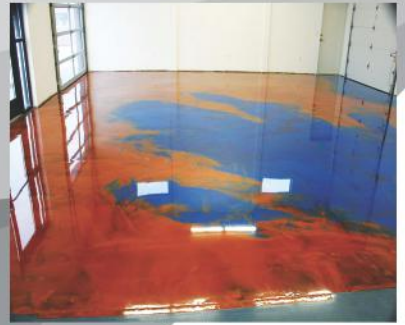

Metallic epoxies give you the ability to create a hard wearing floor that replicates the look of copper, silver, bronze or gold right through to incredible bright purples and greens to name a few.

They provide a WOW! factor to any floor. In residential settings, they provide a real talking point for friends and family and in commercial, they are popular in offices, retail stores, restaurants or even nightclubs where a very modern, upmarket look is wanted by the client.

The floor itself is embedded with metallic pigments which actually glitter and as the epoxy resin goes on up to 3mm in thick, the depth you get in the final finish looks three dimensional. There is a massive range of colouring options which can be mixed and matched to create completely new effects.

- Very hard wearing epoxy floor
- Customisable colouring
- Incredible depth colour
- Great in a residential setting or in commercial environments such as shop and restaurant floors
- A floor that gitters
- Can also be used on benchtops
- A real feature to any space
